I neglected to send you a message this past May when everything was finally settled.

I want to thank you for your advocacy, for listening to what I needed to say, reading all the texts between her and I, and providing excellent counsel. I very much felt heard and appreciated you keeping me on a path of rationality when my feelings were starting to affect my decisions. In hindsight, I don't think it could have gone any better than it did.

My deepest thanks to you for helping me in that time of my life. My thanks as well to Nicole for her kindness and professionalism. I hope you are both well and if not, that you get through whatever challenges and obstacles you face stronger than before.

Sincerely,
